Spiritual "To Do List" (things God has shown me today)

Offertory

"How Lovely Are the Messengers" is from St. Paul Oratorio by Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy.

The text for this music is a translation of Isaiah 52:7

"How lovely are the Messengers that preach us the gospel of Peace.

To all the nations is gone forth the sound of their words."

The beauty of the Bible is that many men wrote it, over [hundreds] of years. Some were common laborers, others were kings. Some were terrible public speakers, others were known as the oracles of God. One was the wisest man who ever lived, many were poorly educated. Among them were priests, and men who were afraid they were too sinful. Some were very old, some were too young to be respected. These authors lived in different countries, spoke and wrote different languages and some never got to read what others had written. But out of what should be confusion and contradiction, instead comes a unified message, glimpses of the divine, even as they are expressed in the understanding and words of many different kinds of people.

—Josh Withe

We honor the fathers present today. At the end of the worship service this morning, a small gift will be given and a group photo of all fathers will be taken.

be on your guard; stand firm in the faith; be men of courage; be strong.

Welcome to worship on this day that we affirm the inspiration and inerrancy of the Bible, the Word of God. On this day we also honor our fathers.

Call To Worship

Fear the LORD thy God, to keep all his statutes and his commandments, ... thou, and thy son, and thy son's son, all the days of thy life; ...that thy days may be prolonged.

O how love I GOD'S law! it is my meditation all the day.

Hear therefore,... and observe to do it; that it may be well with thee, and that ye may increase mightily, as the LORD God of thy fathers hath promised thee, in the land that floweth with milk and honey.

GOD'S word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.

And these words,... shall be in thine heart: And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

The entrance of GOD'S words giveth light; it giveth understanding unto the simple.

For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.
