Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed.

Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

John 6:27; I Corinthians 15:58

Welcome to worship on this Labor Day weekend. We're pleased that you have joined us as fellow workers in God's kingdom.

LORD, we bless Thee that Thou art God of weekdays and Sabbath. Thou Thyself dost work and art lover of all such as do honest work. O God, bless all us workingfolk, and may all of us keep our hands and our hearts clean.

God bless people who don't know where work is to come from to-morrow. God bless people who are here beginning life's struggles. Keep them from being discouraged. Keep them with the high heart and the bounding pulse. God, keep young men and women against the tomorrow, and make it clear that nobody has a right to fail in watching or fail in interest or fail in hoping against the to-morrow for himself or others. May serving God not seem a duty, but may it seem only a glorious opportunity to have the chance while in the earth to talk about Him and love Him and think about Him who died for us. Bless all of us therefore. Give us a good and gracious week. Bless us with high courage and noble enterprise, and bring us all after a while to God, for Christ's sake. Amen.

Bishop William Quayle
